Re: United States v. Bokum
Docket No. 12 CR 36 (SJF)

Dear Judge Feuerstein:

On December 19, 2011, the defendant was arraigned on a complaint. The defendant was released on the following conditions: $500,000 bond secured by property belonging to his step-father in South Carolina, (that property was posted and a confession of judgment on said property was executed and filed). In addition, the Court ordered electronic monitoring with permission to leave the home for employment, court and or attorney visits and other emergencies. Defendant was also ordered to surrender his passport which he has complied with. To date, the defendant has been fully compliant with all the conditions ordered. Without employment during this period the defendant has been confined to his residence.

At this time the government has no opposition to amending the above-described bail conditions to remove the electronic monitoring and home arrest conditions. The parties agree that the defendant shall report once a week in person and report daily by telephone to his Pre-trial Services Officer. Therefore, it is respectfully requested that the Court amend the bail conditions as such.

Very truly yours,

Joseph R. Conway
